Marg Ruttan : Grandma Charlie's Favorite Blue Ribbon Recipes before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Grandma Charlie's Favorite Blue Ribbon Recipes:

In this second book in the Grandma Charlie's series, Marg continues the story of Maggie's adventures as she works as an apprentice chef. She follows Maggie as she learns the tricks of the trade and hones her cooking skills. Maggie has the opportunity to share some of her favorite recipes and these are well received. She gets to make several cakes and enjoys learning about new recipes she can try out on Ruby and George. She is especially taken by a recipe for French Onion Soup and can't wait to make it at home. The recipes in this book include: Chocolate, Cupcakes, Muffins and Casseroles. From the humble but always loved simple chocolate cake to the white chocolate and raspberry cheesecake, the cake recipes alone will delight and satisfy your taste buds. The cupcakes are all well worth trying and there is a wide variety of choices. Muffins from lemon to blueberry and even savory muffins like Tex-Mex Muffins add another whole dimension to the book. And finally, a whole array of casserole recipes round out this cornucopia of treasured recipes. The casserole recipes include those for beef, pork, chicken, and seafood. And there are even a few that use up leftover turkey. With the addition of a few kitchen tips this cookbook has so much to offer. With solid recipes and heart-warming stories of Maggie's adventures, Marg has cooked up another blue ribbon cookbook.
