Cute ideas, beautifully photographed By heleen huyten-erkens Finally there are some books to be found that have both cute and classy ideas for cupcakes! This book stands out for the cute ideas it offers for decorating cupcakes in a way that all kids will love to eat and look at, and adults will love to make. It holds several fresh and new ideas that I haven't come across before in my collection of baking and cake decorating books. The cupcake flowers with bees on it are one of my favorites, as are the cub cupcakes. The mushroom cupcakes photographed in the woods look fantastic too. The reason I am giving this book 4 stars, is that I ordered the book 'the artful cupcake' by Mrs. M. Miller at the same time and was so impressed by the way this book turned a simple cupcake into a show stopping dessert (but also has ideas for presenting it as a more simple treat) that it was hard to beat. If you're aiming to please children get 'hey there cupcake', if you're looking to wow adults, get Mrs. Miller's book. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Hey there cupcake! Cupcakes have captivated the nation, and Clare Crespo makes them like no one else. Crespo bakes up trompe l'oeil cupcakes for every occasion, proving they can look like balls of yarn, fried eggs, or peppermint candies - and taste just as fantastic as they look. Cute, accessible, and colorful, this cookbook contains 35 wildly inventive recipes, including: Cupcake Burgers: Chocolate and yellow cupcakes sliced and frosted to look like a burger topped with lettuce and tomato on a sesame seed bun; Cubcakes: Caramel cupcakes frosted to look like a koala, panda, and grizzly bears; Pollination Cupcakes: Honey-flavored cupcakes frosted to look like flowers, topped with candy bees; Six-Pack Cupcakes: Cola-flavored cupcakes stacked and iced to look like a six-pack of soda. In her acclaimed debut title, The Secret Life Of Food, Crespo created recipes that rallied families to approach birthdays, holidays, and picnics with devilish creativity. Enthusiasm for Crespo and her food creations landed the irrefutable author on Today, Good Morning America, and a raft of cable shows, including the Food Network's Extreme Cuisine, Top 5 and Roker on the Road; HGTV's Smart Solutions; and the Style Network's You're Invited. The book also garnered high praise in publications as diverse as Vanity Fair, Rolling Stone, Newsweek, and the Los Angeles Times Magazine, among others.
