When we make cinnamon rolls, we turn half the dough into Bohemian Kolaches (which are not cinnamon rolls so they weren't covered). But they both have the same icing, just different fillings. For Kolaches, divide the dough into small round dough balls and place on greased baking pan 2 inches apart - cover and let rise 10 mins. Then punch down the hole in the middle and place the fruit filling into the hole. Same cooking time as the cinnamon roll. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. She made one of the recipes with a yeast dough--something she hasn't got a lot of experience with--and they turned out wonderfully. So we'll be making those again, and as many of the rest as we can eat.
