Sallie Morris : Indonesian Cooking Around the World before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Indonesian Cooking Around the World:

Includes a fascinating introduction and a comprehensive glossary with information about all the special ingredients, equipment and cooking techniques needed to create these wonderfully exotic dishes.

About the Author Sallie Morris is a food writer and consultant. Her travels have taken her to Kenya and Malaysia, where she ran courses in cooking. Sallie has contributed to many publications and written several books covering a wide range of cooking styles. Her interests are regional food and Oriental cookery, particularly the cooking of South-east Asia, and she has journeyed extensively through Thailand and Indonesia, gathering recipes for her own pleasure as well as for her cookery books.
