Guide: Wines of Australia (Mitchell Beazley Wine Guides):

Written by a recognized authority on Australian wine, this guide offers information about the key wine regions, grape varieties, wines and wine producers of Australia. The book is split by region, with A-Z listings of more than 1100 wine producers. For each producer entry there is detailed information about the wines they make, and tasting notes and star ratings are featured. Information about tourism facilities, such as visitor amenities and cellar door sales, is also given. There are twelve detailed maps covering each wine region, identifying the location of the major wine-producing areas and wineries.

About the Author James Halliday is a winemaker in Australia and an internationally respected wine writer and wine judge. In 1995 he won the Maurice O'Shea Award for his outstanding contribution to Australia's wine industry. He is the author of the Wine Atlas of Australia and New Zealand and co-author, with Hugh Johnson, of The Art and Science of Wine.
